

GROWING UP IN AUSTRALIA

Growing up in Australia is a great thing to do. I am lucky because I've grown up on a farm just out side of Grong Grong and near Matong. It is fun to be a country boy because I can climb trees, jump off cliffs into water and do lots of other great things.

My family and I can go canoeing, camping, swimming and on lovely walks through the tall trees and often come across animals and lots of beautiful nature. We have great fun in the water and out. While we are in the water we go skiing and that's very good because we're close to the river.

On the farm I can help my dad, like getting ready for harvest, herding sheep, learning about farm prices and all different skills that I will need when I build my own farm.

On our farm we have lots of different animals like sheep, cattle, dogs, chooks, ducks and I even own a horse.

I love Australia because it's fun and enjoyable to live here as you might have guessed after reading my story.
